

and in Tiananmen Square makes a mockery of this country's commitment to human rights and makes a mockery of our commitment to nonproliferation of weapons of mass destruction.

What it does in terms of to the oppressor, it encourages them to believe we are not serious about these things, to the oppressed it is even worse. A mother of a 17-year-old boy who was killed in the Tiananmen Square massacre recently courageously made a public statement in Beijing urging President Clinton not to go to Tiananmen Square:

"I can't understand why he chooses this inappropriate time," ten years, almost ten years to the day, after the massacre, "this inappropriate time and place," this woman says, "to conduct the visit. To Chinese people the month of June means bloodshed and killing, so why choose June," this lady, this mother of the slain human rights activist, states.

Again I quote: "The red carpet he will walk on is soaked with the blood of our relatives. Of course, the state leaders of other countries get the same reception there, but the United States is different as it is a superpower of the free world and it is supposed to uphold justice."

I call on the President, as many in this body do, to reconsider this trip and to stand for freedom in Tibet and human rights on the mainland of China. Those stands will bring a better chance for peace in the world.
